

A little gift in the letterbox makes it all worthwhile

Carol Altmann – The Terrier

Why I keep going: thankyou to the very generous person (you know who you are) who left this great card and a gift voucher for some fabulous fruit and veg from Materia Bros in my letterbox today, saying thanks for The Terrier.

What a lovely thing to do.

It made my day and to know that my work is making even the smallest bit of difference to our patch of the world makes it all worthwhile.

I so appreciate those who support The Terrier in whatever way they can, and I am determined to keep going and growing for as long as I can. The Terrier is inching toward 5000 followers, which is astonishing and means we have a strong voice to hold those in power to account.

I am still working on taking some “down time”, but I will be back soon. See you then.
