

Nothing foreign about this blue tune

Foreigner was one of the biggest bands in the 1980s and, even today, you can hear the muzak version of “I wanna know what love is” pumping through the speakers at the supermarket.

But this week’s blue tune was a solo hit for the Foreigner front man, Lou Gramm, who looks a lot like Michael Bolton in this video clip – perhaps they shared the same hairdresser.

Poor old Lou has suffered multiple health problems in recent years, but, at 63, he is still rocking.
